- Zelechowski, Gina Pugliese. Suction collection and its relation to nosocomial infection, 22

Subject index*

A

- Abstracts of papers presented at APIC '80, 87
Antibiotic resistance, plasmid-mediated, in changing hospital environment, efficacy of control measures (Bryan et al.), 65

- Bacteremia in large community hospital and other enterococcal infections (Klimek et al.), 58
nosocomial, associated with contaminated blood pressure transducers (Aduan, Iannini, and Salaki), 33

*February, pp. 1-32; May, pp. 33-64; August, pp. 65-96; November, pp. 97-128.

- Bacteria, gram-negative, resistant, screening for with gentamicin-MacConkey agar (McGucklin, Pyle, and Abrutyn), 85 (Brief report)

- Blood pressure transducers, contaminated, nosocomial bacteremia associated with (Aduan, Iannini, and Salaki), 33

- Catheterization, intravenous, nosocomial Staphylococcus aureus meningitis as presumed complication of (Tecson-Tumang), 120 (Brief report)
Cesarean section, pelvic infections after, role of Haemophilus influenzae in (Weinstein, Fernando, and Colburn), 18
Chemoprophylaxis of infection, modern approaches to (Quintiliani), 2
Classification of nosocomial and community-acquired infections in neonate (Gottschalk, Pitre, and Schuth), 97
Community-acquired and nosocomial infections in neonate, classification of (Gottschalk, Pitre, and Schuth), 97
Computerized axial tomography, suspected outbreak of endotoxemia associated with (Sharbaugh), 26 (Brief report)
Control measures, efficacy of, and plasmid-mediated antibiotic resistance in changing hospital environment (Bryan et al.), 65
Cord prophylaxis, triple-dye, changing pattern of neonatal colonization with (Buffenmyer and MacDonald), 41
Culture and sensitivity, appropriate collection of specimens for (Gurevich), 113

E

- Endotoxemia, suspected outbreak of, associated with computerized axial tomography (Sharbaugh), 26 (Brief report)
Enterococcal infections in large community hospital, emphasis on bacteremia (Klimek et al.), 58
Evolution of a multidisciplinary journal (Castle and Klimek), 1 (Editorial)

G

- Gentamicin-MacConkey agar, screening for resistant gram-negative bacteria with (McGucklin, Pyle, and Abrutyn), 85 (Brief report)
Gram-negative bacteria, resistant, screening for with gentamicin-MacConkey agar (McGucklin, Pyle, and Abrutyn), 85 (Brief report)

H

- Haemophilus influenzae*, role of in pelvic infections after cesarean section (Weinstein, Fernando, and Colburn), 18
Hospital environment, changing, plasmid-mediated antibiotic resistance in (Bryan et al.), 65

I

- Indicators for quality control of sterilizing processes in hospital practice, review of (Starkey), 79
Infection(s) associated with suction collection procedures, recommendations for reducing (Pugliese, Mackel, and Mallison), 72

- chemoprophylaxis of, modern approaches to (Quintiliani), 2
- control program, total, six elements of (Pappas and Krause), 51
- enterococcal, in large community hospital, emphasis on bacteremia (Klimek et al.), 58
- nosocomial and community-acquired, in neonate, classification of (Gottschalk, Pitre, and Schuth), 97
- in long-term care facility (Magnussen and Robb), 12
- relation of suction collection to (Zelechowski), 22
- pelvic, after cesarean section, role of Haemophilus influenzae in (Weinstein, Fernando, and Colburn), 18
- and tracheal colonization in pediatric intensive care unit (Weissburg et al.), 46
- Intensive care unit, pediatric, tracheal colonization and infection in (Weissburg et al.), 46
- Intravenous therapy, care of veins during, incidence of phlebitis as related to knowledge and performance (Brown, Mackowiak, and Smith), 107

L

- Long-term care facility, nosocomial infection in (Magnussen and Robb), 12

M

- MacConkey agar-gentamicin, screening for resistant gram-negative bacteria with (McGucklin, Pyle, and Abrutyn), 85 (Brief report)
- Meningitis, Staphylococcus aureus, nosocomial, as presumed complication of intravenous catheterization (Tecson-Tumang), 120 (Brief report)
- Modern approaches to chemoprophylaxis of infection (Quintiliani), 2

N

- Needlestick and puncture wounds, definition of problem (Reed, Anderson, and Hodges), 101
- Neonatal colonization, changing pattern of, with triple-dye cord prophylaxis (Buffenmyer and MacDonald), 41
- Neonate, classification of nosocomial and community-acquired infections in (Gottschalk, Pitre, and Schuth), 97
- Nosocomial bacteremia associated with contaminated blood pressure transducers (Aduan, Iannini, and Salaki), 33
- and community-acquired infections in neonate, classification of (Gottschalk, Pitre, and Schuth), 97
- infection(s) in a long-term care facility (Magnussen and Robb), 12
- relation of suction collection to (Zelechowski), 22
- Staphylococcus aureus* meningitis as presumed complication of intravenous catheterization (Tecson-Tumang), 120 (Brief report)

P

- Papers presented at APIC '80, abstracts of, 87
- Pelvic infections after cesarean section, role of Haemophilus influenzae in (Weinstein, Fernando, and Colburn), 18

- Phlebitis, incidence of in relation to knowledge and performance, during intravenous therapy (Brown, Mackowiak, and Smith), 107
- Plasmid-mediated antibiotic resistance in changing hospital environment, efficacy of control measures (Bryan et al.), 65
- Prospective vs. retrospective surveillance (Blake, Cheatle, and Mack), 75
- Puncture and needlestick wounds, definition of problem (Reed, Anderson, and Hodges), 101

Q

- Quality control of sterilizing processes in hospital practice, indicators for (Starkey), 79

R

- Retrospective vs. prospective surveillance (Blake, Cheatle, and Mack), 75

S

- Sensitivity and culture, appropriate collection of specimens for (Gurevich), 113
- Specimens, appropriate collection of, for culture and sensitivity (Gurevich), 113
- Staphylococcus aureus* meningitis, nosocomial, as presumed complication of intravenous catheterization (Tecson-Tumang), 120 (Brief report)
- Sterilizing processes in hospital practice, indicators for quality control of (Starkey), 79
- Suction collection procedures, recommendations for reducing risks of infection associated with (Pugliese, Mackel, and Mallison), 72
- relation to nosocomial infection (Zelechowski), 22
- Surveillance, retrospective vs. prospective (Blake, Cheatle, and Mack), 75
- Suspected outbreak of endotoxemia associated with computerized axial tomography (Sharbaugh), 26 (Brief report)

T

- Total infection control program, six elements of (Pappas and Krause), 51
- Tracheal colonization and infection in pediatric intensive care unit (Weissburg et al.), 46
- Transducers, blood pressure, contaminated, nosocomial bacteremia associated with (Aduan, Iannini, and Salaki), 33
- Triple-dye cord prophylaxis, changing pattern of neonatal colonization with (Buffenmyer and MacDonald), 41

V

- Veins, care of during intravenous therapy, incidence of phlebitis as related to knowledge and performance (Brown, Mackowiak, and Smith), 107

W

- Wounds, needlestick and puncture, definition of problem (Reed, Anderson, and Hodges), 101
